

Grazing plate

To start with, these are the main ingredients that might be/are typically included in a grazing plate:

- 2-3 kinds of cheese (e.g. soft such as Brie, slightly harder as Parmesan). Might also include fruity pasta to go with the cheese.
- Breads and crackers
- Dips (combination of different colors dips that goes well with other food on the plate)
- Dried fruits
- Fresh fruits
- Raw veggies
- Meat (salami, ham, turkey etc.)
- Dried nuts (pistachios, walnuts)
- Dried tomatoes, olives etc.

Putting it all together

First thing that I have done was putting the meats, cheese, crackers and all of the ingredients that takes most of the place on the plate. Then I have tried to spread the fruits and other smaller ingredients over the plate so it looks colorful and, in some way, more organized. To the end, I added all the small dried fruits, nuts and etc. to fill in the spaces.

Since there was not enough pf space on a plate, so our bread was on a separate plate.

And VOILA! :D
